

Women on the Edge in Early Modern Europe

Edited by Lisa Hopkins and Aidan Norrie

Contents

1. Introduction: Early Modern European Women and the Edge

Aidan Norrie and Lisa Hopkins

Section I: Life on the Edge

2. 'At the mercy of a strange woman': Plague Nurses, Marginality, and Fear during the Great Plague of 1665

Lara Thorpe

3. Chemistry, Medicine, and Beauty on the Edge: Marie Meurdrac

Sarah Gordon

4. Anna Stanislawska's Orphan Girl of 1685: Autobiography of a Divorcee

Lynn Lubamersky

Section II: Witchcraft and the Edge

5. Touching on the Margins: Elizabeth Sawyer's Body in Performance and Print

Alex MacConochie

6. Anna Trapnel: Prophet or Witch?

Debra Parish

Section III: Courtly Women on the Edge

7. Wife, Widow, Exiled Queen: Beatrice d'Aragona (1457-1508) and Kinship in Early Modern Europe

Jessica O'Leary

8. On the Edge of the S(h)elf: Arbella Stuart

Lisa Hopkins

9. Cecilia of Sweden: Princess, Margravine, Countess, Regent

Aidan Norrie

10. 'Elizabeth the Forgotten': The Life and Influence of Princess Elizabeth Stuart (1635-1650)

Jessica L. Becker

Epilogue: The Early Modern Edge in the Twenty-first Century

11. Catalina de Erauso—'the Lieutenant Nun'—at the Turn of the Twenty-First Century

Eva Mendieta